

DESCRIPTION

There are 14 kinds of magnets available, each one different in its subject, size and type.

The classic ones:

Rectangular, measuring 5.4x7.8 cm portraying the Sforza fortress by night, the finishing stretch and the pit stops at the 'Enzo and Dino Ferrari' racetrack, the monument to Ayrton Senna, Gramsci square at the beginning of the twentieth century with the eclectic market building and the entrance to the city on Via Emilia from the late nineteenth century, facing the demolished Bologna gate.

The wide-angle views:

Rectangular, measuring 3.6x11.4 cm, they are dedicated to the town seen from the keep of the Sforza fortress and to the 'Enzo and Dino Ferrari' racetrack.

The molded magnet

Aerial view of the Sforza fortress profiled around its circular ramparts, measuring a total of 5.9x9.5 cm.

The magnetized bookmarks:

Vertical, measuring 11.8 x 5 cm, portraying a motorcycle race at the 'Enzo and Dino Ferrari' racetrack and a view of Matteotti square taken from above. On the back of each one there is a small additional illustration that, through the Blinkar application, allows you to view a film clip of Imola with bigger than real reality.

The museums:

Square shaped, measuring 6x7 cm, they are dedicated to some places of art in the town, such as a bedroom in the Tozzoni palace, the interior of the "Ebe Stignani" municipal theatre, the "Giuseppe Scarabelli Museum" and the ancient Saint Frances library, now the municipal Library.
